

Central African Republic

Overall Risk Score: 74

Risk Level: high

This score is a composite of the four domain scores discussed below, which are weighted and combined to produce the overall country risk score. Each country is given a score from 1 to 100 for each domain and for the total bribery risk. A higher score indicates a higher risk of business bribery. Assessments of whether a given domain score is “good” or “poor” are made relative to all other jurisdictions within that domain.

1. Business Interactions with Government: The Central African Republic receives a poor score of 79 in this domain, based on a very high degree of government interaction, a high expectation of bribes, and a high regulatory burden.
2. Anti-bribery Deterrence and Enforcement: The Central African Republic receives a very poor score of 91 in this domain, based on a very low quality of anti-bribery dissuasion and a low quality of anti-bribery enforcement.
3. Government and Civil Service Transparency: The Central African Republic receives a poor score of 77 in this domain, based on very poor governmental transparency and medium transparency of financial interests.
4. Capacity for Civil Society Oversight: The Central African Republic receives a poor score of 51 in this domain, based on a medium degree of media freedom/quality and a low degree of civil society engagement.
