

Hong Kong

Overall Risk Score: 30

Risk Level: low

This score is a composite of the four domain scores discussed below, which are weighted and combined to produce the overall country risk score. Each country is given a score from 1 to 100 for each domain and for the total bribery risk. A higher score indicates a higher risk of business bribery. Assessments of whether a given domain score is “good” or “poor” are made relative to all other jurisdictions within that domain.

1. Business Interactions with Government: Hong Kong receives a very good score of 12 in this domain, based on a low degree of government interaction, a low expectation of bribes, and a very low regulatory burden.
2. Anti-bribery Deterrence and Enforcement: Hong Kong receives a good score of 35 in this domain, based on a high quality of anti-bribery dissuasion and a high quality of anti-bribery enforcement.
3. Government and Civil Service Transparency: Hong Kong receives a good score of 37 in this domain, based on good governmental transparency and good transparency of financial interests.
4. Capacity for Civil Society Oversight: Hong Kong receives a poor score of 51 in this domain, based on a low degree of media freedom/quality and a medium degree of civil society engagement.
